EMCs, Extraordinary Ministers of Communion:

FYI: Ordained Clergy (Bishop, Priest, and Deacon) are ORDINARY Ministers of Communion. We only use Extra-ordinary Ministers of Communion when there are not enough Ordinary Ministers of Communion to distribute.

When you are scheduled as an EMC, please sit in pews near to the front of the Church and come forward before everyone is finished with their Sign of Peace. Most of our EMC's are ready to come forward as needed so if you are not there AS the sign of peace is ending, others may take your place. If you are scheduled "EMC Main Church" please stand near the credence table and the servers.

If you are scheduled "EMC - Hall", please stand in the area between the Main Altar and the musicians. We will distribute Communion under both kinds - to the musicians first and then to the people in the hall. If you are scheduled as an EMC for the parish hall, please be aware that there may be times when the priest decides that Communion will not need to be distributed in the hall and he will excuse you from serving after you have received Communion yourself. When you are finished distributing Communion, or have run out, you may set the chalice and purificator (or ciborium) on the altar and return to your seat.

NEW: When someone comes up with arms crossed, it means they do not receive Communion. EMCs do not give blessings; a hand on the head of little ones or on the shoulder of anyone older, without saying anything, is all that is needed for a proper acknowledgment of their presence before you.

Lectors:

The First Person listed on the ministry schedule reads the First Reading, the Psalm* when there is no cantor or song leader, and the Prayers of the Faithful when there is no Deacon.

The second person listed reads the second reading. The person doing the Second Reading should close the Lectionary (the book you are reading from) and hand it to the Altar Server.

Always practice the reading!

Read slowly and clearly and read only what it is written. Our older and/or hard of hearing parishioners can't keep up if you read too fast. Before Mass you can check the readings (the Lectionary will be set up on the ambo) and the Prayers of Faithful (on the ambo, under the Lectionary, when we don't have the Deacon)

Please also make sure the microphone is on and in position ~ just a few inches from your mouth.

*To lead the psalm: Read the refrain and then signal the congregation to repeat it. Repeat it with them. (Don't say, "the response is..." or "the responsorial psalm is..." , just recite the refrain, motion and say it with the congregation.

IF YOU ARE UNABLE TO SERVE A SCHEDULED DATE,
PLEASE FIND A REPLACEMENT FOR YOURSELF

Lectors may ask the other reader to do both readings if you cannot serve a scheduled date.

Sometimes people can't find a replacement and just can't make it. Please come forward to assist with the readings, as an altar server or song leader, or to serve as an EMC if you see the need!
